Hands down my favorite documentary I've ever seen and the book was an awesome topper to see further into the making and shaping of these events. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Spiritually uplifting By D. Revlis If you are into the nostalgia of the rock climbing pioneers turned philanthropists, this is the book for you. I work next to a Patagonia store and now I really get why when you walk in the front door the first thing you see is the USED CLOTHES section. Very eye opening. Yvon Chouinard is a very cool character. Don't miss the movie too. 12 of 12 people found the following review helpful. Awesome, Inspiring Book By N. Meltzer Makes you want to quit your job and follow their journey. Excellent photos and great stories, it feels like you're along for the ride the whole time.

180 South takes readers behind the scenes of the film, 180 South, made by Chris Malloy, to learn more about the people who made the film, the original overland journey to Patagonia in 1968, and the repeat journey over ocean and land 40 years later. The book includes stories of events and experiences that inspired Chris Malloy, Yvon Chouinard and Doug Tompkins to choose paths committed to saving what's left of the wild world. Open it anywhere and enjoy the photographs by the worlds leading surf and climbing photographers Jeff Johnson, Jimmy Chin, Scotty Soen and Danny Moder.

About the Author Yvon Chouinard, a noted alpinist and environmentalist, is the founder and owner of Patagonia, Inc., which Fortune has called the coolest company on the planet. He is also the co-founder with Craig Mathews of 1% For The Planet and the author of Let My People Go Surfing. Doug Tompkins is a mountain climber, Deep Ecologist, and forward-thinking businessman. Tompkins was the founder of The North Face and co-owner of the ESPRIT clothing company. Chris Malloy is a professional surfer, cowboy, and visionary filmmaker. He directed the well-respected films Shelter, Thicker than Water, A Brokedown Melody, and One Track Mind. Chris has brought his eye and style to Patagonia clothing, helping them brand and realize their surf line and retail surf stores. An advocate for sustainable living and for surfings roots, Chris still opts to paddle into some of the largest surf imaginable. Jeff Johnson is one of the best surf photographers in the business.
