Since it came through the marketplace, there was no gift card inside. While I'd told them that I was sending it, after they'd received it, my mother told me that someone had sent them a funny calendar. She had no idea who'd sent it to them. They don't have any significant memory loss: just their Senior moments. They enjoy it. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Winner By Thalia I got this for a Xmas gift exchange that generally is dull and unimaginative. Bunch of old ladies who don't want to take the time to be imaginative will fight over this one. Beats tea towels or some other snooze gift. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Neither funny nor enjoyable to me By sk This calendar is well constructed with good printing but I am not enjoying it. I am a senior with a good sense of humor. In my opinion, this calendar is not funny, clever, or ironic. Not offensive, just not fun. I have purchased enjoyed several other page-a-day calendars, but for me, this one is a dud.

In tennis, I now prefer doubles to singles because theres another chance that somebody on the court will remember the score. author Richard Lederer A hilarious year of extreme absentmindedness, mental lapses, and quotes, adapted from the bestselling book with over 400,000 copies in print.
