

(Read download) A Children's Christmas Story Play

A Children's Christmas Story Play

T. J. Nichols

*ePub / DOC / audiobook / ebooks / Download PDF

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

2016-09-12Original language:English 9.00 x .7 x 6.00l, #File Name: 153764782228 pages | File size: 59.Mb

T. J. Nichols : A Children's Christmas Story Play before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised A Children's Christmas Story Play:

This is a Christmas play written for children to perform. It is a story of three children waiting for their parents to finish shopping in a mall. They watch a Christmas play and discuss the season with each other. It is a powerful play through the innocence of children. It brings all of Christmas, the busy, hustle bustle to a complete stop as you see the day in Mary's life compared to today.

About the Author I was born into an American military family stationed in Germany on July 16, 1954. We predominately lived in Lawton, Oklahoma and my dad is buried there at the Ft. Sill cemetery. Church life was a normal life. My two sisters and I grew up under the nurture and care of a wonderful pastor and parents who convinced me from a very early age that God was real and He was personal and He could meet my every need. I believed every word of it! That steadfast belief and knowing that God could pull me out of any one of my messes, at any given time, has kept me in a place of hope and steadfast faith all my life. As I would stumble here and there, I always knew God loved me. I have never lived my life without that knowing. For as long as I can remember, I had a desire to write. I enjoy reading a variety of genres. After the death of Dick Heflin (husband of 20 years), the writing became a release, and a healing process. A new life emerged after 8-1/2 years of being a widow and I am once again blessed with a wonderful marriage to Ralph Nichols, retired TVA, and former cattle rancher (turning into a horse rancher soon). As this new life emerged, I began a publishing company, Heart of My Heart Publishing Co., LLC. where I sell my books, as well as other authors books, paintings, photography, cards, and jewelry. I have and continue to write Dont Worry God Has You Covered which are love letters from God and other books. These books came out of a recovery of a financial loss during the death of my late husband and my road back to financial victory, emotional healing, and joy in this new era of my life. I live a life surrounded by the peace that only Jesus can bring, a wonderful husband who loves me and worships God with me. He prays the sweetest prayers and blessings over all of us. We enjoy 5 beautiful children and their spouses and have 20 grandchildren between the bunch, from ages 1 to 21. I am a living testimony that you can have loss beyond measure and life again, with blessings beyond measure, if you keep your trust in God and dont lose hope. There is always hope in Christ.