

Let's Pretend; Smithsonian Historical Performances

Radio Spirits

*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

#4676275 in Books Radio Spirits 1996-07 Original language: English PDF # 4 1.47 x 5.78 x 4.96l, Binding: Audio Cassette | File size: 69.Mb

Radio Spirits : Let's Pretend; Smithsonian Historical Performances before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Let's Pretend; Smithsonian Historical Performances:

1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Let's Pretend--a lost TreasureBy JJ DeMauroMy childhood centered on radio, not tv, which was virtually non-existent before I was ten. My favorite show was "Let's Pretend" which read fairy tales--most of them so unique I have not seen them elsewhere. One Christmas I received the very beautifully illustrated Let's Pretend book which I treasured for many years and bitterly mourned when it disappeared. Recently I was inspired to track it down on the web. I was delighted to find a nearly new copy of it for $300 on . (Very few copies are still in existence.) I gladly pillaged my children's inheritance. When I unwrapped it, the sight of the green cover (I had forgotten the color) brought tears to my eyes. My kids will probably not appreciate it because so many beautifully-illustrated books are now available, but to me it continues to be a treasure. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy Customergreat2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Dream Come TrueBy AddledByBooksThe finest, most beautifully illustrated, most charmingly narrated book of fairy tales ever published. Tales both familiar and rare: Cinderella, Rumpelstiltskin, Childe Roland, Princess Moonbeam, The Leprechaun, etc. This book was a piece of my childhood, ultimately re-discovered for me by the book mavens of ABEbooks' Book Sleuth, and found on .com. What a joy to "hear" again the warm voice of the lady who lovingly told the stories on the radio to this rapt child back in the 1940's/50's.

A brand new collection of radio's outstanding children's theatre. Let's Pretend animated young audience's imaginations for over 23 years. Written by the genius producer/director, Nila Mack, her "Pretenders" reenacted adaptations of classic fiary tales and original fantasies like Beauty and the Beast, Cinderella and Hansel Gretel. 4 cassettes.