2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. I highly recommend those who think about life's daily wonders to read this book. You will not be disappointed! By Kevin King This is a really unique question and answer book filled with intriguing tidbits on life's little mysteries. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Surprising and funny By Customer Lots of funny and surprising facts. Good answers on many "stupid" questions. Impossible to compare with similar books - never seen something like this.

Have you ever wondered why a headache throbs, why cannibalism is bad, or why toilet seats in public restrooms in the U.S. have a gap in the front? Then wonder no more. We answer these little mysteries and others like; why you shake your hand when you hurt it, why Australia has so many dangerous animals when nearby New Zealand has so few, and why a circle is 360 degrees. Altogether we have collected 95 little mysteries and answered them. Read the book, wonder, and be amazed by the answers. More questions from the book: * Why don't aged beef simply rot or spoil? * Why do physical scares last for a last lifetime if the cells of your body are replaced every 7 years? * Why is a bird native to North America named after the country of Turkey? * How can Chinese companies ship products sold on eBay (and other similar sites) to the other side of the world (North America and Europe) for less than $1? * Why are some fruits sour or spicy if their purpose is to get eaten and have their seeds spread? * Where are all the baby pigeons and where are all the dead pigeons?
