William Hutchings : NPR Station Directory before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised NPR Station Directory:

Smith I purchased the NPR Station Directory for my brother as a birthday gift from his cat! I was pleasantly surprised to find such a comprehensive directory at such a great price! The size is perfect for a person that travels...would fit into any small space with ease, in fact, it fit into a birthday card! We had a lot of fun looking to see which cities were included, and, WOW, it's amazing the number of places that have multiple NPR stations. If you, or anyone you know is both a traveler, and a fan of NPR, this makes the perfect little gift. Needless to say, my brother certainly "thanked" his cat for it! A big "Thank You" to William Hutchings for an incredible job!

From the Author If you're an NPR fan (as I am) it is really frustrating to scan-search the radio dial trying to find an NPR station. By knowing the frequency, the listener can immediately go to that setting and never miss "Morning Edition," "All Things Considered," or any of the wonderful programs from National Public Radio.
