1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Three Paul Temples for The Price Of One By Pete Grant I am addicted to Paul Temple and these early episodes are wonderful. A great package with fun extras including two episodes from the original 1938 series. Peter Coke might be the best known "Paul", but the three earlier "Pauls" on display here each brought something different to the role. The sound quality is pretty good given the age of the recordings. If you enjoyed the later entries to the Temple canon, you should check these out.

Three complete radio dramas featuring writer-cum-amateur detective Paul Temple, plus bonus archive material. When it comes to classic crime partnerships, Paul Temple and his wife Steve are the crme de la crme. Between 1938 and 1968 their glamorous exploits enthralled generations of radio listeners around the world. Here, presented in chronological order, are some of the amateur detective's earliest adventures. "Send for Paul Temple" is an early remake of the now-lost original 1938 BBC production. "Paul Temple Intervenes" finds Paul and Steve investigating a series of celebrity murders, while "Paul Temple and the Vandyke Affair" concerns the strange disappearance of the Desmond baby and her sitter. Hugh Morton, Bernard Braden, Carl Bernard, and Peter Coke play Paul in these episodes, with Bernadette Hodgson, Peggy Hassard, and Marjorie Westbury as Steve. A bonus disc features rare archive material from otherwise lost productions, including the final episodes of "Send for Paul Temple" and "Paul Temple and the Front Page Men." Duration: 11 hours approx.
